4. NOTES ON THE EXAMINATION

- (a) Facilities and scheduling: for the successful implementation of this syllabus, it is recommended that institutions running this course should provide sufficient number of typewriters for the students, and at least have a minimum of 5 periods of 40 minutes each per week. Qualified typewriting teachers should handle the subject.
- (b) In cases where the number of candidates exceeds the number of typewriters available for the examination, permission will be given, on application to the Council, for the examination to be held in two or three sessions on the same day.
- (c) The centre concerned will be responsible for the effective segregation of candidates to ensure that for the duration of the examination, candidates leaving an earlier session do not have any contact with those attending a later session.
- (d) Application for such sessions, giving the number of papers required for each session and the times suggested must be made when the entry forms are returned to the appropriate national office.
- (e) The typewriting teacher should not act as a Supervisor/Invigilator in his or her own school, but may be available to assist should defects in a machine unexpectedly hamper a candidate's progress.
- (f) There should be an alternative paper (Alternative B). This paper will be available to schools which cannot accommodate all the candidates for the typewriting examination on the scheduled day on condition that the Council is given, at least, six months notification.
- (g) The use of electric typewriters may be permitted. However, the Council will not accept responsibility for any electrical/electronic problems. The Supervisor and Invigilator should ensure that the memory of the typewriter is removed or cleared and that the candidate submits typed scripts of the speed and accuracy test.
- (h) Any satisfactory method of erasure will be allowed, except in the speed and accuracy test where no corrections will be permitted.
- (i) Dictionaries may also be used in the examination.
